Leadership Development

- Anyone interested in participating in the 2013 Pulaski Tomorrow class can contact Pulaski Tomorrow at (478)783-LEAD or visit the Pulaski Tomorrow Facebook page.

- Welcome to new Pulaski Tomorrow Chairman Robert Herman. Robert replaces outgoing Chair Harley Lawson. Harley was the first Pulaski Tomorrow chair and has served for three years. Thank you for your service and leadership, Harley.

- Faculty members from the UGA Masters of Arts in Nonprofit Organizations (MNPO) are currently working with Pulaski Tomorrow to establish independent non-profit status.

- Faculty members from the Fanning Institute for Leadership Development will be working this year with Pulaski Tomorrow to develop youth leadership opportunities in Pulaski County.

- The next Pulaski Tomorrow Steering Committee meeting is Thursday, February 21 @8:30 A.M in the Pulaski County Annex. All members, alumni and prospective members are invited to attend.

Community Health

- Taylor Regional Hospital and the Community Health Issue work group met to begin creating a strategic plan to improve community health. Taylor Regional is working with Georgia Southern and Archway to create and implement this plan.

Economic Development

- United Pulaski has a new website designed by UGA students and Georgia Web Services. This site was designed to reflect current economic development trends and provide the critical information that developers need. Look for a new Chamber of Commerce website later this year.

- Josh Walton from the UGA Small Business Development Center is working with Archway and local organizations to bring more continuing professional development opportunities and business tools to Pulaski County in 2013.
• UGA students have created a comprehensive agritourism plan for Hardy Farms Peanuts. Their work will be completed in February and will serve as a valuable source of information for all who want to pursue agritourism.

Government Service Delivery

• UGA College of Environment and Design students are looking for summer design projects. Previous work has been completed at the city and county boat landings, the industrial park and downtown.

• Revisions to the Uchee Shoals Interpretive Trail Map are currently being undertaken. The project should be completed soon.

• UGA Landscape architect student, Mario Cambardella, recently completed a site plan for the firehouse museum that will be included in a grant submission for the project.

Housing

• Archway will continue to support the housing efforts of Hawkinsville and Pulaski County.

Public Education

• A meeting is being organized to explore the possibility of establishing a Boys and Girls Club in Pulaski County. Anyone interested in being a part of this effort can contact the Archway Office.

• Georgia College Professor Min Kim is donating his time to work with Hawkinsville High School students as they prepare for the SAT. This is part of the Communities of Opportunity initiative to provide students with mentoring opportunities and a wider variety of out of school activities.
