Public Education

- On Tuesday, March 5 at 5:30 PM in the Pulaski County Board of Education Training Room (72 Warren Street), the Archway Education Committee will host Mr. Lee Wagner, President and CEO of the Boys and Girls Club of Central Georgia. Any community members interested in finding out more about starting a club in Hawkinsville are invited to attend. For more information, call the Archway office at 783-9220.

- Georgia College Professor Min Kim donated his time to work with Hawkinsville High School students as they prepare for the SAT. This effort was part of the Communities of Opportunity initiative to provide students with mentoring opportunities and a wider variety of out of school activities. Tyler Duncan, Cody Gordon, Alec Mays, Kristin McDaniel and Devin Wiggins participated from Hawkinsville High School.

- Archway will be working with Pulaski County Family Connection to bring “Reality Check”, an interactive financial learning experience, to Hawkinsville High School students this spring.

Leadership Development

- If you know anyone interested in participating in the 2013 Pulaski Tomorrow class, please have them contact Pulaski Tomorrow at (478)783-LEAD or visit the Pulaski Tomorrow Facebook page.

- Welcome to new Pulaski Tomorrow Chairman Robert Herman. Robert replaces outgoing Chair Harley Lawson. Harley was the first Pulaski Tomorrow chair and has served for three years. Thank you for your service and leadership, Harley.

- Faculty members from the UGA Masters of Arts in Nonprofit Organizations (MNPO) are currently working with Pulaski Tomorrow to establish independent non-profit status.

- Sonya Jones, our Pulaski County 4-H agent and a member of Pulaski Tomorrow, is leading a local team to develop a leadership skills curriculum for Pulaski County Youth. She will be working with Dr. Carolina Darbisi and Dr. Matt Bishop from UGA’s Fanning Institute for Leadership Development on this project.

- The next Pulaski Tomorrow Steering Committee meeting is Thursday, March 28 @8:30 A.M in the Pulaski County Annex. All members, alumni and prospective members are invited to attend.
Community Health

- Taylor Regional Hospital and the Community Health Issue work group met to begin creating a strategic plan to improve community health. Taylor Regional is working with Georgia Southern and Archway to create and implement this plan.
- Training on childhood obesity will be available in the community through a partnership between the Archway Community Health Committee and Children’s Healthcare of Atlanta. CE credits will be available to providers. The training will be held Tuesday, April 23 at 5:30 in the Sam Way Learning Center. Please call the Archway office at 783-9220 to attend or find out more.

Economic Development

- United Pulaski has a new website designed by UGA students and Georgia Web Services. This site was designed to reflect current economic development trends and provide the critical information that developers need. Look for a new Chamber of Commerce website later this year.
- Josh Walton from the UGA Small Business Development Center is working with Archway and local organizations to bring more continuing professional development opportunities and business tools to Pulaski County in 2013. The first information session is scheduled for Wednesday, March 20. Please contact the Archway office for more information.
- UGA students have created a comprehensive agritourism plan for Hardy Farms Peanuts. An overview and a work plan have been created. They will be beneficial to anyone in the community who is interested in creating an agritourism venue. In March, Archway is working with the school system and the Chamber to look at farm to school opportunities.

Government Service Delivery

- UGA College of Environment and Design students are looking for summer design projects. Previous work has been completed at the city and county boat landings, the industrial park and downtown.
- Revisions to the Uchee Shoals Interpretive Trail Map are currently being finalized. The project should be completed soon.
- UGA Landscape architect student, Mario Cambardella, recently completed a site plan for the fire house museum that will be included in a grant submission for the project.

Housing

- Archway will continue to support the Housing efforts of Hawkinsville and Pulaski County.
