Washington County Monthly Key Accomplishments – April 2013

Washington County Holds Teen Maze

The Washington County Teen Maze was held Monday, March 18th at the Boys and Girls Club of Washington County. Approximately 250 high school students - a mixture of sophomores and juniors from WCHS and Brentwood - participated in the Maze. The event would not have been possible if not for the collaborative efforts of approximately 30 different community organizations to include upwards of 75 volunteers. Washington County Archway Partnership and Washington County Family Connection/Communities in Schools were lead organizers of the event. At a wrap up meeting for Teen Maze volunteers and contributors on March 28, it was decided that this would be an annual event and promotion would take place throughout the year.

MEP Plan Presented for City of Tennille

Jack Crowley, Program Head for the Masters of Environmental Planning program in the College of Environment and presented a final report to the City of Tennille on suggestions for decreasing train noise in downtown Tennille. Plans also include proposed ideas for development of additional green space in downtown Tennille.

Washington County Youth Leadership Program Learns about Public Service and Outreach on UGA Campus Tour

Washington County’s Youth Leadership Program conducted by the Washington County Chamber of Commerce and supported by local businesses and organizations held their annual field trip on April 10. Organized by Archway Partnership, this year’s trip was to the University of Georgia where students visited the J.W. Fanning Institute for Leadership Development, spoke with a representative from the Carl Vinson Institute of Government, toured the Butts-Mehre Heritage Hall and the Ramsey Center, ate lunch in the East Campus Dining Hall, spoke with a representative from Admissions and from Student Life and were able to take the walking tour of Historic North Campus.
