Impact Analysis Shows Hart Co. saves $5,250,000 on Homeowner’s Insurance Premiums
(Impact Statement)
A long-term plan for the Hart County Fire Department, developed by Hart County with the help of the Archway Partnership, lowers residents’ homeowner’s insurance. The plan, completed in 2010, focused on better resource allocation for overall public safety and an improved fire-protection rating, reducing insurance premiums, and saving tax payers money. With the newly documented fire plan and implementation of several fire protection enhancements, Hart County earned a new, and lower, 2012 Public Protection Classification (PPC) rating. A recent financial impact analysis estimated the impact of PPC changes lowered on homeowner's insurance premiums for residential properties to be roughly $5,250,000 per year.
