Committee to Highlight Meaning of Healthy Workforce in a Community
In December, the Sumter Archway Partnership Community Health Committee launched the Chamber Challenge initiative to encourage greater community health and awareness based off their community health needs assessment. A kick-off event headlined by Dr. Marsha Davis from CPH highlighted workplace wellness and how employees’ health can affect both employers and the community in her presentation entitled “Return on Investment in Public Health: Creating a Healthy Georgia.”