Deacons and Stewards Receive Grant for Lumpkin Street School
The Foundation for Rural Education and Development (FRED) recently awarded a $2500 community development grant to the Deacons and Stewards Association of Pulaski County, Georgia. The check was presented to Association President Roy Rawls by Bob Krueger, Chairman of the ComSouth Board of Directors on February 10, 2014. The grant funds an oral history project that has been a collaboration between the Deacons and Stewards, ComSouth and the UGA Archway Partnership, and also will be the beginning of the funds to restore the building.

Youth Leadership Academy debuts in Pulaski
March 10, 25 high school students began the inaugural class of Youth Leadership Academy in Pulaski County. Facilitators from Pulaski Tomorrow will share their experience with young people and help them on a journey to develop leadership skills, dive into community issues and participate in exciting adventures. The Youth Leadership Academy is a collaborative effort of Pulaski Tomorrow, the Chamber of Commerce, the JW Fanning Institute for Leadership Development, and the Archway Partnership. The entire class is funded from donations by local businesses and organizations. The first week included a visit to the Georgia State Capitol to meet with local elected leaders, Governor Nathan Deal, and Secretary of State Brian Kemp (Pictured with group).
