Interior Design Student Completes Plans for Mount Airy Schoolhouse in Habersham County

UGA Lamar Dodd School of Art undergraduate student Rebecca Freitag presented an interior design plan to city officials. The plan includes renderings of both the first and second floors, and allows for a restoration of the historic stage and auditorium. The design provides for city offices, council chambers and meeting facilities. The plan is part of a multi-phase restoration effort aimed at both restoring and repurposing the building.

Lamar Dodd Student Photographs Habersham County

UGA Lamar Dodd School of Art student Luke Underwood visited Habersham several times during the past month, photographing various local venues and area attractions. Underwood is a photography student at UGA’s Lamar Dodd School of Art, and was assigned to Habersham during the summer semester. His work will be available for use on Habersham’s website, as well as in local brochures and marketing publications.
