Hartwell information kiosks

Information kiosks originally designed by Archway graduate assistants from the College of Environment + Design landscape Diane Silva and Emily Hunt were recently constructed on the square in downtown Hartwell. In spring 2013, Silva and Hunt worked with a local stakeholder committee to develop designs for the kiosk structure, a new Hartwell skyline logo, and informational panels featuring a downtown map, calendar of events, and local arts/culture activities. Archway partnered with the Hartwell Downtown Development Authority, City of Hartwell, and Hart Count Chamber of Commerce to raise funds and write a successful grant for the project. The Hart County Board of Commissioners gave approval for constructing the kiosks on courthouse grounds.
